hands.

The opening boat was a six round one between Casper Leon, of New York, and Brilly Smith, of Philidelphia. Leon forced the righting and had Smith bleeding and in distress, but could not finish him in six ropages. The referee awarded the boat to Leon.

The big fellows were announced to fight 25 rounds at each weights. O'Donnell's seconds were Brilly Delaney, Jim McCabe and Ben Murphy. Maher was looked after by Peter Lowry, Buck Cornelius, of Pittsburg, and Pete Borns. Cornett, who was present, responded to calls for is speech and said; "All I've got to say, gentlemer, is that if I'd been in England or Australia and acted as Fitzsimmons did, I'c be chased out of the country." O'Donnell then stepped into the ring. He was well received, but Maher, who appeared a minute later, received an oyation.

Time was soon called for the first round. Maher led with his right and landed on the jaw, k tocking O'Donnell down. The moment he Australian got up Maher repeated it and again O'Donnell went down. He rose on the ninth count and after sparring for a second Maher knocked him down and out with a left swing on the jaw. Time, one minute and three seconds. O'Donnell had to be carried to his corner but recovered and was assisted to the dressing room. The crowd want wild and poured into

Bayard's Blunder.

The recent speech of Ambassador flayard, reference to which was made in THE WHIG some days ago. is attracting widespread attention and but one opinion expressed concerning it. The New York Tribune says: To our National exharman of Diplomatic Daises must con be added, as chief of them all, our Amh sendor to Greap Britian. The others have brought discredit upon their couptry by certain vogaries of conduct and of speech. It has been reserved for Mr. liature deliberately to denounce and to ins 29 America and American institucions before foreign sudiences. Some three British ago, for example, at Boston, England, he dwelt with perfervid rhetoric upon the unfitness of Americans for eit-government and the need of a strong personal authorat to rule over them. The President of the United States, he said, strod ain'd people who sought to have their own way and whom it took a strong mon o govern. If that meant any hing it meant that, in his opinion "government of the people by the people" was a failure, and that a dictator was needed who could and would override the popular will. It may be that Mr. Bayard reathy thinks that, and that other Americans do; and perhaps ench sentiments are agreeable to Europeans who do not believe in republican institutions. Certainly Americans in general do not think so. For any Amerlean to say such things publicly in forthe highest official re resentative of the American Government to do so in of undoubted impropriety.

Having thus repudis et. American institutions in general, Mr. Bayard now proceeds to denounce them in particular. He fights party battles on a foreign platform, and tries to show to the world how bitter are the fectional animosities of bilter are the Iscuonal animoships or American politics. At Edinburg on Thursday he took too the burden of the burden of the burden was founded by Madison and his colleagues, pronto ed by Clay, and tas through the best years of our history been the actiled policy of the Nation.
"It has," he cried, "fore more to corrupt

That is the picture he draws of American public life during the entire period of his own of American public policy, given to a foreign and not altogether friendly audience, by the highest (ficial representative of the American Government.

We are not prepared to say that Mr. Bayard realized he was doing a grossly insproper thing It may be that he sincerely imaginen it to be the function of an Ambassador to wash dirty knen and fight out partison fouds before the eyes the Lexicograms Editors have been forced of the world. He may think that, as suith so many contradictory attitudes within the past two years that they are free to discuss American party politics new all at year. A Youth Committed to the Insane Hospital Under Peculiar Circumstanbes

Sheriff Samuel G. Norton, of Waldo County, brought to the Insane Hospital Saturday, Perty Wals, who was committed on the order of Judge Whitehouse Wals is a young fellow of nineteen, apparently healthy and fairly intelligent One peculiar fact connected with his case is an unwillingness to work. There doubtless are others in the world affected with a similar complaint but it is said that Wals is firmly convinced that he cannot work and the dillemma in which he now finds himself appears to be caused by his loability to make others believe as he does, that his leziness is chronic, lege or not. And the fact of one s not between practicing for three pears to the whall of the chartered colleges. Of the regular practitioners few hard where he may of the chartered colleges. from him and so one morulog he set his bed on fire. The blaze was discovered in time to be extraguished before much damage was done.

It is claimed that Wals admitted having set the fire, saying he did so because he thought if he could burn the buildings he could get rid of work and wouldn't have to stay there. He was taken to Belfast jail, and while there preferred to sit around doing nothing than to take.
